THE Morning Monitor says: "When coal becomes cheap in Manitoba the rigors of our winters will partially disappear." This point is not clearly of great advantage to settlers in the Edmonton district where the abundance of their coal supply over those in other parts of the country.

A BUSY career was had Monday afternoon between J. F. Smith's Palmetto and P. Campbell's Sorrel, a quarter of a mile on the race course, for $500 a side resulted in the Sorrel winning easily. E. J. LAWRENCE of Vermilion, Peace river, is in town on his way home from Eastern Canada.

THE Messrs. Stedman who left Edmonton last spring for Washington territory reached their destination at Medical Lake safely. In a letter to Mr. McLean of Little Mouth they say that the country is very broken there and good locations difficult to get.

They wish to say that in all their travels from Northwestern Ontario to Medical Lake, and they resided some years at Moose Jaw, and Calgary, as well as Edmonton, they have never seen a good country for mixed farming as that extending from the Sturgeon river north of Edmonton to the Lone Pine 160 miles south of Little Mouth.

W. M. MILLOT, of London, Ontario, who visited Edmonton in July last as a delegate from one of the Ontario farmers' excursions to Calgary, gives his views to the London Advertiser: He says: "My impression of the country around Edmonton is that, it being further from the mountains and being 1,100 feet lower in latitude Calgary, it is less liable to frost, besides having an abundance of timber and hay.

It is, therefore, the most desirable place in the whole Northwest to settle in. Edmonton stands in the centre of a large district, all of which is well adapted for mixed farming and dairying, with coal in abundance at your door. Coal is being delivered at the house for 33 per cent of fine quality, and gold is taken out of the bed of the river in paying quantities. There are 30 or 40 miners at work there, making from $3 to $4 a day."

THE HON. J. L. is in receipt of a communication signed "An Intending Settler," which complains very strongly against the practice pursued by some settlers of allowing their cattle to run at large on the public lands.

On laws regarding the confinement or herding of such animals, the same as in any other part of Canada." Ordinance No. 13 of the revised ordinances of the Territories makes provision for the impounding of all trespassing or stray animals and contains similar provisions regarding horses, but the provisions only take effect after a pound district has been erected, which of course is subject to the consent of the local government.

The request of the settlers, or a considerable number of them, resident within the limits of the proposed pound district. No expense is connected with the erection of a pound district. The law is in existence and it only depends on the people interested whether it shall be made to apply or not. If they do not ask for it, they cannot fairly complain if it is not forced upon them.

SOME weeks ago the BULLETIN published an enquiry from Mr. Joseph of Victoria, B. C., regarding the facilities for dairying in the Edmonton district. A second letter from the same person received recently by Mr. McKernan says: "I have just heard from a party who has been there that six months winter storage would be required for cattle, so that would be a great drawback to successful dairying. This gentleman advises me not to go there, but remain in British Columbia where the climate is comparatively mild. I did think that a few cattle put out to a few acres about Alberta would do well, and perhaps would do so, but it seems it is not so easy as I had supposed."

THE Morning Monitor says: "I am much obliged to you for your reply but I think the climate would be too severe for me, as I have no objection to the climate of the Territories." A letter in a recent issue of the Victoria Colonist from the same Mr. Joseph shows where he procured his remarks. It is a misrepresentation of the climate and capabilities of Alberta. It seems he had derived them from H. F. Davis' account of Peel's River, which appeared largely in the Colonist, in which that gentleman took occasion to say that "what would not occur even to a low down as Edmonton."

In the face of the misrepresentation that is indulged in in all quarters regarding this district, it can scarcely be expected that the intending settler will be induced to leave his home for himself.

BRADDER'S says that the effect of the "Rock" railway from St. Paul and Minneapolis through Canada has been to cut the time of the journey from St. Paul and Minneapolis to any of the points on the route to less than it was before.

THE EDMONTON BULLETIN is published every Saturday morning, at the office, Main street, Edmonton. Subscription—Two Dollars per annum. Advertising rates—Standing advertisements, two dollars a line per annum; transient advertisements, ten cents a line for each insertion and five cents a line for each subsequent insertion. FRANK OLIVER, proprietor.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, SEPT. 7, 1889.

Wheat throughout Manitoba is expected to yield fifteen bushels to the acre, or a total of over eight million bushels.

Reported at Ottawa that the British government has refused to allow its vessels to be used for the protection of Canadian sealers in Beaufort's sea, but has requested the Canadian government to prepare a schedule of damages claimed by the owners of seized sealers. It is intimated that negotiations are now in progress to settle the difficulty by arbitration.

Morden Monitor: "Everyone will regret the apparent disinclination of the C. P. R. to extend the Northern line this year."

We condemn very strongly the building of unprofitable branch lines in every direction asked by many people, but in this case the company undertook to build 50 miles per annum. The result was that settlers rushed in, prepared to brave all inconveniences and hardships until the line was extended. That promise has been outrageously broken year after year and much suffering is the consequence."

The Methodist conference of Manitoba and the Northwest Territories passed a resolution regarding temperance, of which the following is an extract: "We re-affirm the position always held by the Methodist church, that as a church we stand in direct opposition to the traffic in intoxicating drinks in all its forms, and are prepared to give our best assistance to any and every effort to lessen, restrict, or put a stop to the traffic."

We also desire to enter our solemn protest against the violation of the principles and spirit of the prohibitory law of the Territories, by the granting of certain licenses to sell intoxicating liquors by the federal government, and the granting of licenses to sell four per cent beer by Governor Royal. We believe that as long as any law is the law of the land, it ought to be respected and maintained inviolate, and enforced both by public and private citizens; being assured that any such setting aside of the law by those in authority must be disastrous in its effects on the moral tone of the citizens of our land."

The Free Press supports the abolition of the dual language system in the Manitoba government but objects to the abolition or Roman Catholic separate schools. On the latter subject it quotes Rev. Professor Hart of Manitoba College (Presbyterian) as follows: "If proper provision were made for giving such instruction to the pupils of the different denominations under practical conditions, I would be willing to forgo the benefit of daily religious instruction by the teacher. In order to secure such a system of public education as would enable all the children of the country, without regard to their question of denomination or race, to be educated side by side, and grow up together imbued with all the feelings and aspirations of a common nationality. This is an end for which we should all be willing to make sacrifice, and I would hail its attainment with great satisfaction. But I am afraid for reasons that are only too obvious, that however desirable it is, it is now either beyond our reach, or is to be attained only at a cost beyond its value."

The following letter which appeared in the St. Paul Pioneer Press gives the present condition of the Dakota farmers: "On account of the frost last summer we had to purchase our seed wheat last spring. We paid $1.50 for a very inferior grade with interest at 12 per cent per annum secured by lien and mortgage on the crop and a lien on our land. This year the drought has entirely destroyed some of our crops; others have saved enough for seed, some more and some less. Question No. 1: Can the parties who have the seed lien and mortgage take the wheat from those who have only seed enough for seed? They are demanding from those who have lost all their crops a bonus of 50 per cent per month—50 per cent per annum—to extend their papers another year. This bonus is to be added to the principal and the whole to draw 12 per cent per annum. Question No. 2: Is this legal, or can they collect it even though they induce a man to sign the papers through threats and bull-dozing? Question No. 3: Does the old seed lien mortgage hold good until paid, even though the crop is a complete failure? I don't know of a man but who is perfectly willing to pay the debt with legal interest, so long as he is allowed to mortgage on the next crop, but give them the bonus. By answering the above questions thoroughly the common sense of the 'Notes and Queries' will confer a great favor on the farmers generally in Manitoba and Dakota counties."

RAILWAYS?

Now that the first of September is passed and the country begins to take on the appearance of fall there is likely to be a cessation of railway rumors at least until next season of parliament. It is therefore a good time to count up what has been done. When spring opened there appeared a prospect of the country being gridironed before this time. But it isn't. The great and numerous projects have most unanimously failed to materialize. The most promising were the extension from Lethbridge into Montana, the Calgary and Edmonton line, and the Regina to Long lake line. If the first is not dead it is certainly soundly asleep; the second is as evidently as dead as dead can be and only the third is in progress. Of the amount of work to be done on this latter or the immediate use that it will be to anyone, it is as well not to venture an opinion at present. A very short time will tell the tale. The extension of the N. P. & M. into the Northwest, upon which the people of all parts of the Territories rested their hopes is evidently not to be, as long as the combination between the Canadian government and the C. P. R. company can prevent.

Our eyes have been dazzled so greatly and so frequently by the brilliant prospects held out by it that promoter or projector that we have scarcely been able to think it worth our while to get right down to business and take measures to help ourselves. If it be true—as it is generally believed to be—that the construction at present in progress on the Regina & Long lake road is the direct result of the political pressure brought to bear by the people of Prince Albert rather than of legitimate enterprise it is a strong hint to other parts of the country that they must use like means to attain like results. That is, that they must run down their country in order to get the means to run it up.

It has become amply evident that one of the greatest—if not the greatest drawback to independent railway enterprise in the Northwest is the fact that the C. P. R. has not yet selected its land grant. That until that grant is selected no railway company is able to avail itself of the nominally liberal grants of land made by the Canadian government and therefore is unable to construct its road. It is also evident that the C. P. R. has refrained from selecting its land grant for the very purpose of preventing other companies from proceeding with construction. This alone blocked the entrance of the N. P. & M. into the Territories this year. The point to be insisted upon, then, by friends of the Northwest is that the C. P. R. shall be compelled to finally select their land grant. Once this is done either way will be clear for other companies; or, if the C. P. R. will not open up the country itself, the government will have to step in and still further bonus it to construct branch lines, as has been done in the case of the Regina & Long lake.

Although the present construction on the Regina & Long lake may be the result of persistent and extravagant agitation it does not follow that a similar agitation carried on at Edmonton would be equally successful—and as yet the measure of success achieved is a question. It might perhaps be better to join forces with the people of Battleford and Prince Albert to secure or ensure the extension of the Regina & Long lake to the North Saskatchewan at an early date next season than to strike out on an agitation for a line direct to this point. There is every prospect that eighty miles of the Regina & Long lake road will be graded this fall. If that work is only being done to pacify a few agitators it may be allowed to rest there for a year or two, without being any practical benefit to anyone, whereas if it were continued eighty miles further to the elbow of the north branch it would put new life into the five hundred miles of fertile country along the navigable waters of the Saskatchewan, from Edmonton to Prince Albert. To get the road extended to that point is certainly a matter of deep interest to every one living further up the river. If the road goes to Prince Albert without touching the north branch it adds eighty miles of unnecessary navigation on the trade of the upper river which would take very greatly from the value of the railroad connection, and if it is not extended beyond the point at which construction will probably end this fall it will be of but little practical benefit to anyone. It is to the interest of all parties along this river to have the Regina & Long lake road completed to the North Saskatchewan as early next year as possible. If we can secure the settlement of the location of the C. P. R. land grants so as to clear the way as much as possible for competing lines and the extension of the Regina & Long lake to the Saskatchewan early next season we will have made very substantial progress toward railway extension throughout the Territories in the near future. This cannot be done unless our representatives in parliament work and vote straight in the interest of the country, without regard to the calls of party which have held them helpless so long.

At the meeting of the advisory council of the Northwest Territories which closed at Regina on August 15th it was decided that the state of the Territorial finances would require a distribution of a further sum of $500 to each member of the assembly to be expended in public works, making a total of $1,400 each or $50,800 in all. The printing of the Northwest Gazette fortnightly was awarded to the Regina Journal and the printing of blank forms to the Macleod printer.

GRAIN SAMPLES.
At the last meeting of directors of the Edmonton agricultural society it was decided to make a special collection of samples of native grasses and grain in the straw to be sent to the fall exhibition in Ontario without awaiting the result of the annual fall show here, as to do so would make it impossible to meet the exhibition there. The collection was made by R. McKernan assisted by A. F. Deegan who at the same time was collecting statistics for the board of trade. On Tuesday evening last the samples were collected in R. McKernan's office and consisted of 10 pea vine, 1 of swamp grass, 3 of blue joint grass, 10 of wheat of several varieties, 9 of oats both black and white, 2 of six rowed barley, 4 of two rowed barley and 1 of pea without the straw. The measurements of the longest in each variety were as follows: blue joint grass a large sheaf cut, 5 feet, 2 inches, swamp grass, cut, 5 feet 2 inches, 2 inches wheat pulled, 1 inch, 1 inch, wheat 4 feet, white Russian wheat 4 feet, red life wheat 3 feet, 8 inches, Genesee club, 3 feet, 8 inches, white oats 4 feet, 5 inches, white oats 3 feet, 6 inches, 2 rowed barley 4 feet, 6 rowed barley 3 feet 10 inches. Messrs. D. R. Fraser, M. McCauley and Geo. Bull were asked to give their opinion as to the quality of the grain. In wheat the first piece was awarded to L. Harris, of St. Albert road, for the best in two rowed second to D. Craig, of the Sturgeon for his red life and the third to J. Lett and Ottewill, of Clover Bar, for white Russian. Five samples of Ledaia wheat were compared without any conclusion being reached as to which was best. Mr. Lettupine of the St. Albert road was judged best in two rowed barley and P. Marichall of the same second. In six rowed barley P. Marichall was first and Mr. Lettupine second. A. McNabb, of Stony Plain was first in white oats and J. Lett and Ottewill, of Clover Bar second. The black oats were not decided upon as they were rather green. An excellent sample of field peas was shown by Mr. Lettupine, of St. Albert road. The samples were looked up carefully and forwarded to the Toronto exhibition, which will be held on September 10th to 21st, by Thursday's stage, Leeson & Scott of the stage line taking them to Calgary free of charge.

Manitoba has 623,245 acres in wheat this year which is expected to yield 14.8 bushels per acre. The Commercial estimates that there will be double as much available for export as last year. The province will have nearly nine million bushels and the Territories one million, which about 7,000,000 bushels will be for export.

The Northern Pacific railway company has arranged to issue bonds to the amount of $100,000,000 for the purpose of taking up all the outstanding indebtedness of the company. This will leave $50,000,000 in the treasury for the increase of the company's facilities.

The Manitoba Guardian of New Westminster, B. C., is to be changed to the Westminster Truth and will be managed by John Houston, late of Donald Truth. Mr. Houston is backed by a local company having $20,000 capital.

Bradstreet's says regarding the seizure of Canadian sealers in Behring's sea: "It appears that the matter has become the subject of correspondence between the governments of Great Britain and the United States."

The contract for the N. P. & M. general offices, depot and train shed for the foundation of the hotel has been awarded to Messrs. Bourke and Cass for $100,000, to be completed before the first frost.

The wheat crop at Battledore is good this season but oats, barley and root crops are of the whole poor, some having fair crops and others none. Gophers did a great deal of the damage.

An exploration of the country north of Battledore is projected by some of the citizens of that town with a view to discovering what sources of wealth, if any, exist there.

A local correspondent of the Ellendale, Dakota, Commercial estimates the loss on wheat in that county from the dry weather of this year at $1,500,000.

GENERAL.
Live beef sells in Manitoba at two to two and a half cents a pound.
The N. P. & M. Portage extension was opened on August 28th.
California fruit is 2.50 per cent. dearer in Winnipeg than in St. Paul.

An important cabinet meeting is to be held in Ottawa on September 13th.
The city council of Madrid the capital of Spain is accused of robbing the city of $200,000.

A number of half breed families of Duck Lake have removed to Jackfish lake north of Battledore.

Egan & Dennison have the contract of grading 20 miles of the C. P. R. Scurie branch this fall.

The contract for 50 miles of the Duluth & Winnipeg road has been let to Foley Bros. of St. Cloud, Minnesota, to be completed this year.

The first fall excursion from Ontario over the C. E. R. to the Northwest passed Port Arthur on August 22nd. About 25 were for Calgary.

The C. P. R. placed an exhibition car at the disposal of Calgary to take samples of agricultural products east. It was to start east on August 30th.

The Commercial mentions that Winnipeg wholesale grocers propose sending travelling agents into eastern Canada to dispose of directly imported tea.

Owing to the non-enforcement of the tithing system in Wales clergymen of the Church of England there are resigning their charges and entering secular pursuits. The Welsh people are chiefly non-conformists and refuse to pay tithes to the established church.

Montreal Star: "Out of some eight hundred liquor dealers who are licensed to keep hotels and restaurants in the city less than one hundred are actually complying with the conditions under which their licenses are issued." How does the enforcement of the license law in Montreal compare with the enforcement of the prohibition law in the Territories? And how does the moral standing of Montreal compare with that of the Territories? A license law does not appear to enforce itself any more than a prohibition law does.
